

Vaccine Update 456 – New cold chain breach stickers, Immunisation education opportunities

New stickers for vaccines affected by cold chain breach

WA Health has produced a new sticker resource to assist clinics in the management of vaccines impacted by a cold chain breach (CCB) event.

These stickers are designed to be affixed to boxes containing impacted vaccines.

Benefits of using the stickers:

- Clearly identify affected vaccines
- Alert providers to use affected vaccines first if they have been advised that the vaccines are viable and within expiry
- Ensure appropriate stock rotation
- Support safe vaccine administration
- Support vaccine management practices in line with cold chain guidelines.

To order the stickers, please visit Quickmail and enter the search term “Vaccine Cold Storage Stickers” into the search bar (product code: IMM-014795).

Immunisation education opportunities

As immunisation providers, staying informed and up-to-date on new research and innovations, current immunisation programs, the latest practices and guidelines is essential to delivering safe and effective care.

Whether you're looking for information about your education requirements, online learning, immunisation event recordings and presentations, the WA Health Immunisation Education webpage is your go-to resource.

Why check in regularly?

- New events are added throughout the year
- Topics cover clinical updates, vaccine safety, cold chain management, and more
- Opportunities for networking and peer learning

We encourage all providers to bookmark the page to ensure you don't miss out on valuable learning opportunities.

Your commitment to ongoing immunisation education helps keep our communities safe and healthy.

This document can be made available in alternative formats on request for a person with disability.
